The ideal solution for your everyday practice

Easy to use

Endodontics: laser energy, added to root canal procedures, presents a great list of advantages. It reduces the quantity of microorganisms in canal. It removes the smear layer made of organisms and tooth substance and subsequently melts and resolidifies the dentin to close the tubular openings.

Pratical employ

Periodontics: a very effective bactericidal instruments, laser assists scaling and root planning by reducing pockets and restores the tissue to top health. The thin laser fibre allow to operate with minimal pain inside the pockets.

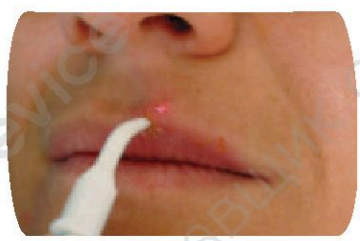

Several accessories

Surgery: in most of the cases laser operations can be performed without anesthesia with minimal bleeding and with quicker post-op recovery. Furthermore this not invasive method does not always need stitches.

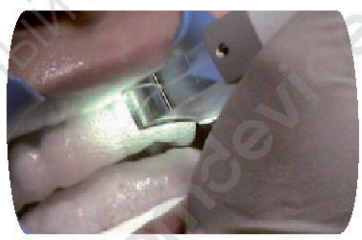

Training support

Therapy: lasers can also be usefully employed in the healing of several other diseases such as herpes, aphthae, TMJ therapy, as well as in the biostimulation and analgesic therapy.

Workstation

Whitening: laser removes stains and yellowing effectively and restores the natural white teeth colour. Thanks to the special handpieces (wide and small area) operations become quick and accurate.
