Nel 1997 Univet inizia a produrre occhiali per alcuni prestigiosi brand della moda: design, cura dei dettagli e un livello di qualità straordinario per chi fa del Made in Italy e dello stile la firma distintiva. Univet decide di trasferire stile, qualità e design italiano - tipici degli occhiali di lusso - nella protezione occhi, e nei settori medicale, laser, clean room e sistemi ingrandenti. La progettazione e il design in-house sono oggi garanzia di estetica raffinata e personalizzazione, e permettono di tradurre stimoli e feedback degli utilizzatori in prodotti unici e dedicati alle esigenze specifiche.

In 1997, Univet began by manufacturing eyewear for some of the most prestigious fashion brands; the attention to detail and extraordinary craftsmanship captured the attention of discerning buyers through distinctive, Made in Italy, design features. Univet has since embarked on a mission to inject its quality and Italian design - typical of luxury brands - into personal protective eyewear. This ingenuitive approach, was then further applied to medical, laser, clean room and surgical loupes. This celebrated in-house design is today a guarantee of aesthetics, innovation, superior quality and personalization.

Le varie fasi della creazione di un occhiale sono un modello di eccellenza: vanno dal design alla prototipazione, alla lavorazione dello stampo, alla fresatura e finitura dei singoli componenti, dalla costruzione all'allineamento delle ottiche, fino alla fase più delicata dell'inserimento delle stesse nell'occhiale. Il modello "ONE" ha vinto infatti il prestigioso premio di design Red Dot Award 2016, nella categoria "Life Science and Medicine", e l'iF Award 2017.

The different phases of eyewear manufacturing leads us on an exciting journey which stems from initial design, to prototype, die machining, milling and ending with the finishing of each and every component. Univet's model ONE won the prestigious Red Dot Award in 2016 in the category of "Life Science and Medicine" and the iF Award in 2017. These accomplishments can be simply attributed to our uncompromised commitment to quality and intricate detail at each step of the construction process: the optical system, alignment and the most delicate phase of lens fastening.
